of 100 seats for eating; that she understands the license also requires her to have a $1,000,000.00 investment; that she believes the renovations will be well above that; that the funding for the move is coming from financing; that the Landlord is providing HVAC and money for some of the build outs; that she is also using her own money, mortgages and money for her future for this; that she had to get approval from her employer to participate in the current location and moving to the new location; that she had to certify to the ethics and governing of the business; that she not only has to respond to the Board about problems should any occur, but also to her own employer; that she is taking a risk with this; that she is still making changes to the layout and final number of tables; that she also wants to have a private room for corporate events, birthday parties and other special events; that she will have space to consume food outside of the bar area out of the way of the pool players; that the distance between tables is large enough for tournament play; that it meets the league's requirements; that she has gotten a petition with signatures in support of the concept; that she has current customers and ones that want to come in and would go to the new location; that there are approximately 200 signatures and most are Prince George's County residents; that they monitor activities currently and talk to customers to keep trouble out; that they have had no complaints at their current location; that it is a family oriented environment with good sportsmanship; that she wants to work with the community and the military for fundraising events; that she wants to participate in Toys for Tots and Police Night Out; that it is a positive environment; that she believes that the license is necessary to accommodate the public; that she has read the Rules and Regulations; that this is an opportunity to expand, serve food, and to grow their business; that they want to be able to teach children to play; that they are owned by pool players for pool players; that they have a children's and juniors league; that it is part of American Poolplayers Association; that for the junior league they are 7-17 years old; that many of their kids went to the national tournament; that one of their members has been sponsored by Predator because of it; that the tables are 1" – 1 1/4" slate Diamond tables; that they change the felt as needed and in accordance with tournament rules; that she doesn't believe it will be a threat to the society; that learned to play when she was 7; that she doesn't hang out in unsafe environments especially with her job; that they are not coin operated pool tables; that they are professional tables they have; that there are 24 7 foot tables and 3 9 foot tables planned currently.

Irene Burks stated that she is a resident of Bowie; that she is a police officer with Prince George's County; that she works with the discipline of officers; that she has been employed with them for 24 years and has the title of Major; that the application is true and correct; that she is not a licensee on the license in Anne Arundel county; that she is a part owner for the new location; that the Crofton location will close when this location opens; that she is responsible for the security of the business; that she has worked with Corporal Cicale to work on developing a security plan; that she will create a plan she would be satisfied with; that she is taking a crowd control management course; that she is not currently Alcohol Awareness certified yet; that they are involved in children's organizations in Crofton; that her job is also on the line if there are issues with this location; that she will ensure the business complies with the Rules and Regulations; that it is not a bar with some pool tables; that it is a place for like-minded pool players to come play; that she believes this absolutely accommodates the public; that she hopes this will help to rid the negative connotation with pool halls; that they are working to develop a security plan because they feel they should have one; that they also intend to later request a special entertainment permit.

Taseen Abdulbarr stated that he is a resident of Upper Marlboro; that he opened the original location for Center Pocket; that he has played pool since he was 16; that as an adult he only found pool halls and places he didn't want to go; that he would travel elsewhere to play; that he chose to open where he did because nowhere else would let him in because of the negativity of pool halls; that he wanted to keep the place well maintained; that people wanted to have food and a bar while they were out; that he has changed people's minds about pool halls when they see his business; that the application is true and correct; that he is on the liquor license in Anne Arundel county; that there have been no violations; that he has only had one incident where he had to ask someone to leave; that the incident was a federal agent that entered with their firearm; that there have been no calls for service; that he believes pool is good for children and young people; that it's not a typical sport and it's not video games; that most of the children in their junior league are from Prince George's County or Waldorf; that he hasn't engaged the community much yet; that he isn't surprised at opposition; that they had opposition when they first opened in Anne Arundel County; that the Crofton customers are sad they're leaving.

Leia Burks stated that she wanted to work with the community; that she recommends people to other places that don't fit with the business they have; that they want a family friendly safe space; that they're not there to compete with bars; that they don't want to take bar customers; that she wants to work with Lonnie, Nipsey's owner; that she talked with him about his concern and when he had pool tables; that she has talked to the shopping center owners and explained her business to them; that they talked with the barber that's in there, Taseen gets his hair cut there; that the barber wants to bring his youth football league over once they open; that she is familiar with Bankshots; that they are a billiards' café; that they have 7 foot and 9 foot tables; that they host the American Poolplayers Association Tournaments there; that it was originally considered an unsavory location because of the previous owners and what they used the space for; that even though the area was bad there haven't been any issues since Bankshots came in; that they keep it pool focused.

Mr. Camacho excused himself.

Leia Burks stated that they are open to the community whether they are a part of the pool league or not that players can rent the tables; that there will be notices on the wall about taking care of the equipment, no gambling, no foul language and having appropriate behavior.

Lonnie Moses, Jr. stated that he is a resident of Gambrills; that he is in opposition of granting Center Pocket a liquor license; that it pains him to speak in opposition of black businesses; that he thinks the people applying are good people; that the problem is the leasing manager has violated his lease, this would be the second time; that the first time he lost $30,000.00; that they aren't supposed to have a space larger than 2,500 square feet in the shopping center that sells food and alcohol; that he worked for 27 years as a policeman with DEA, FBI, homicide, and more; that he has been in places like this undercover and bought drugs and seen guns; that he had a partner shot in a pool hall in District VI; that he printed several articles about violence in pool halls in the area; that he had pool tables in his business previously and took them out because he had to stop gambling from taking place every week; that he heard of a disagreement at a pool hall over a shot and the security officer had to get involved; that it spilled into the parking lot and resulted in a murder; that he doesn't believe it's safe; that he plans to leave if the landlord allows this; that business is business; that he won't allow business to be taken from him and this would be competing food and liquor; that this business violates his lease; that he doesn't want to see young men hanging out in his parking lot with their pants hanging down and smoking weed; that he doesn't believe the applicants would stand for it, but they can't see everything at all times; that he likes pool, but he plays at home because of these issues; that he owns Nipsey's; that he's not had any service calls since he took it over; that he has been open since September 2015; that he believes Fast Eddie's is a pool hall and that is where his partner was shot; that he is handling his lease issues civilly; that this isn't the first leasing issue even with him; that they allowed a hair braiding salon to be next to the Barber; that the problem is with leasing; that he plans to take his business elsewhere; that he had pool tables taken out prior to him taking opening Nipsey's; that he believes you can't stop the violence or gambling.

Jillene Holloway stated that she has been a resident of Prince George's County for 40 years; that she resides in Upper Marlboro; that she is a retired Federal Government worker; that she worked as an IT project manager; that she is a mother and grandmother; that she is not opposed to the establishment, but to the liquor license; that it's not just them, but to any pool or billiards hall; that they have a tendency to drink; that she doesn't understand why you need a liquor license if there are tournaments and it is a sport; that in this area there is already a liquor store and Nipsey's; that giving them a liquor license would be inundating her community where her family works and lives; that she thinks a liquor license would exacerbate the issues; that she lives 5-10 minutes from the establishment; that she shops at the Weis, Giant and liquor store near there; that there are other liquor stores and bars in the area; that they make for a bad environment; that adding another one will make 301 unsafe; that once people leave the establishment it's not the owners problem, but it is the communities problem; that their security plan hasn't been heard; that they can't say whether or not it will help; that she needs sureties she will be safe; that she doesn't oppose Nipsey's since he has security; that she heard about the hearing from her friend Jody Wildy; that more and more places are getting liquor licenses.

Jody Wildy stated that she is a resident of Upper Marlboro and lives about 3 – 5 minutes from the establishment; that she is in opposition to the liquor license; that she is not in opposition to the establishment necessarily; that she is good friends with Mr. Moses; that she has seen his business drop from other businesses coming into the shopping center; that she has seen issues from gambling and pool tables; that she is not in opposition because of Nipsey's; that she doesn't feel safe in those types of environments with pool tables because she is in a wheelchair; that she was an inspector in D.C.; that people gamble on all things and it will cause issues; that she put out a poll on an app Next Door and found that 33% of the people around didn't care one way or the other about the establishment and that 66% were opposed to it; that most people said pool halls cause violence and have had family members killed there; that Nipsey's has events and people feel safe; that she doesn't want it to change; that she takes pride in where she lives; that she's curious where the people who signed the petition live; that this affects her community; that she is in a wheel chair because of someone drinking and driving; that she is ok with the facility, not the liquor license; that she doesn't want to see Mr. Moses's business fail or suffer; that she supports minority businesses, but doesn't want to see established businesses suffer; that she'll do what she can to support Mr. Moses.

Victoria Batty stated that she is a resident of Glenn Burnie; that she is one of the franchise owners of the Greater D.C. American Poolplayers Association; that it is an amateur pool league; that the rulebook governs play; that she has been to Center Pocket in Crofton; that she has never had issues as a young female; that she has had a conversation with the owners about the new location; that she believes there will be no issues; that she has been a member of the American Pool Association since she was 19; that she travels to other locations; that there are about 75 active hosts for the tournaments they run; that they are the third largest franchise in the country; that most of the violence people fear is old school and not condoned in their league, people wouldn't want to come if they did; that it is not healthy and is an old stereotype; that most of their host locations with tournaments care about their tables; that they don't always drinks near the tables, they replace the felt and take care of the tables; that it's not the same as a bar with pool tables; that most of the other host locations have a restaurant with food and a bar with a full liquor license; that she can't say no one ever gets inebriated, it does happen, but it is not encourage; that people typically drink after matches; that they are fighting for people's social time; that people like to drink socially with their friends; that liquor sales add additional revenue for the facilities; that they make up lost wages in table time with food and beverage sales; that it is a weekly league that operates about 48 weeks of the year.

Sarah Geiter stated that she is a resident of College Park; that she is the other franchise owner of the Greater D.C. American Poolplayers Association; that they conduct visits to their host locations to check things out; that it is an extracurricular activity for most people on a slower night of the week at establishments; that typically leagues are on a week night; that most locations have a liquor license; that she can't think of one off hand that doesn't have a liquor license; that it's not professional athletes playing; that it is more like a bowling league.

Robert Sopha stated that he is a resident of Bowie; that he came here in support of the liquor license; that he started going to Center Pocket when he was active duty military; that he played in a tournament with the American Poolplayers Association; that they had helped him become a better player; that it gave him something to do with other people outside of work; that he has increased his skills; that it brings people together from early 20's to those who are now retired; that it brings people together from all walks of life; that he enjoys a beer or two while he plays to loosen up and socialize; that he's not there to get drunk; that typically people are there an extended period of time; that moving would give them more space, have more players, increase revenue and also give space for the juniors to play; that he works with the junior league and younger to work on skills.

Rachel Moran stated that she is a resident of Bowie; that she supports the establishment receiving a liquor license; that her and her fiancée work with the junior league; that their daughter is the one that Leia Burks was talking about receiving a sponsorship; that her daughter is 9 years old and has an international sponsor from playing pool; that the establishment is family friend; that people are there for the love and passion of the game; that people go there to grow skills; that it is safe for children at all times; that she has never seen drugs, violence, guns or even an argument; that she would like to see them be able to grow and expand.

Aaron James stated that he is a resident of Mitchellville; that he and his wife support the establishment; that both him and his wife participate; that he is a team captain for two teams with one at Bankshots; that moving gives them a great opportunity; that the opposition is their perceived threat and is unfair to characterize and compare it to previous businesses; that they are run similar to Bankshots; that he goes three nights a week; that he wouldn't go to an unsafe environment; that without Center Pocket he wouldn't have had an opportunity to compete in Vegas; that to put together a team as a leader each team has 8 players; that as a leader you look for a mix of skill levels to balance out teams; that you want to help increase players skills; that he has never seen gambling at Center Pocket or Bankshots.

Thea Morris stated that she is in support of the liquor license; that she is a pool player; that she is captain of three teams; that she is the Division Representative over 58 people; that the owners are people of integrity; that it is a business owned by players for players; that the league she's currently in plays elsewhere and eagerly wait to move to the new location; that they are a competitive ladies group that like to have fun and play; that is a social activity for them as well and they feel safe there.

Yang Kim stated that she is a resident of Silver Springs; that she is here in support; that she is a single female traveling back and forth to tournaments; that Fast Eddie's is not the same thing; that it is a dive bar; that she would not go there; that you get hit on too much; that you don't go to places like Center Pocket for a date, or to party, or to get drunk; that you may have a beer or glass of wine while waiting for your turn to play; that you might like a beer with your burger; that friends that come to watch the tournaments might like to have a drink; that the place is nice and clean; that the bathroom is immaculate; that she plays in five different leagues; that pool widens the spectrum of meeting people; that she is a professional who works in D.C.; that no one gets sloppy or drunk; that you can't be drunk and play good game; that the league takes up space.

Leia Burks stated that she talked to Mr. Moses and to other people in the shopping center; that Taseen talked to the barber about the youth he works with coming in; that they did not go door to door at the location where they are moving; that she didn't realize there was opposition until today or they would have gone out; that the petition support is from people at current location, but they also know how they currently run their business; that she encourages people who come in to sign up for leagues; that she has had to tell customers currently they're full because of leagues; that leagues come first; that she recommends other places in the community for those looking to shoot for fun if they're full.

Boards Exhibit #1 – Map – Presented by Robert Clark

Mr. Bowman recommended that there be an outreach to the community to address their concerns and to convey the information about the business to the community; that they may also wish to discuss with Councilman Franklin; that perhaps they are unaware of the business model; that he would like to see this happen before they reach a decision and vote.

The Commissioners determined they would wait 30 days to take a vote until the applicant had an opportunity to reach out about the concerns to the opposition.

Respectfully Submitted,
