Message from the County Executive

As we look back on what has been a truly challenging year for so many of us, which demanded both steadfast determination and courage, let us recognize the brave men and women of the Prince George's County Police Department (PGPD) for their service. As your County Executive and as a proud Prince Georgian, I am grateful to the sworn and civilian members who staff our Police Department for meeting the most solemn of duties during these trying times.

In a year overshadowed by the global COVID-19 pandemic, the women and men of the PGPD have more than fulfilled their oath. Even more remarkable is the fact that they did this critical work while steadily helping us implement the 46 recommendations put together by our Police Reform Work Group in 2020, which seek to transform the Department and the crucial role it will always have in our communities. We are confident that the adoption of these measures will help the Department evolve and adapt to continue to meet the needs of our community.

I believe that any law enforcement agency that aspires to be successful must always reflect the people it has been entrusted to serve and fully embody their values. To that end, this year I had the distinct privilege of appointing our new Police Chief, Malik Aziz, a more than 30- year veteran of public service and national leader in community-oriented policing. In a little more than seven months, Chief Aziz has made Prince George's County his home and continues to steadily steer our finest through this period of reformation.

At the center of our joint mission is ensuring that our recruitment efforts attract the best and brightest prospects to staff what we are hoping will become a Department that serves as a national model for community policing. To support these efforts, we allocated funding in our Fiscal Year 2022 budget to support the recruitment of two full classes of promising recruits who we're certain will make us Prince George's Proud.

Although we will face challenges in the year ahead, I know the best is yet to come for Prince George's County and our Police Department. I remain fully committed to supporting the men and women of the Prince George's County Police Department and their families. Let's always recognize the sacrifices that our police officers and first responders make on a daily basis and do everything we can to support them as they strive to keep Prince Georgians safe.

Sincerely,

Message from the Deputy Chief Administrative Officer for Public Safety and Homeland Security

As the Deputy Chief Administrative Officer for Public Safety and Homeland Security, it has been a privilege and honor to work with Police Chief Malik Aziz and the dedicated and committed men and women of the Prince George's County Police Department. It is our hope and strong belief that we will continue to serve the proud citizens of this great County by providing current information on our police programs, staffing, resources, and the Department's progress over the last year.

The men and women of the Prince George's County Police Department, under the leadership of Chief Aziz, are proud to present the Department's 2021 Annual Report that provides a roadmap of where the Department is and where it's headed.

As we review the progress of the Police Department over the last year, we know that change does not come easy, and transformation is nothing less than expected from our residents. 2021 brought many challenges in our Police Department such as the rise in violent crimes and the ongoing challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic. Our officers had to work under some stringent conditions, while fighting the challenges of rising crimes not only in Prince George's County, but across the country. Our Police Department under the leadership of County Executive Angela Alsobrooks and Police Chief Malik Aziz continues to forge ahead as we overcome the COVID-19 pandemic, fight crime and addressing the ongoing police reform mandates.

I know the Police Department views each resident and visitor as part of our police community and a voice for progress, change and transformation. The Department has worked extremely hard over the last year to strengthen relationships with the community. Our new Chief has been on the job less than a year and I believe; progress is on the horizon. In the words of Chief Aziz, "I remain optimistic and excited about the future of this great Department", and I agree with his sentiments.

I consider it a privilege and honor to work with the men and women of the Prince George's County Police Department. As the Department presents their 2021 Annual Report, I ask you to join me in thanking our dedicated Police Department workforce for what they have done in the past and by supporting them now into the future. They truly deserve our support as they go about their business of protecting and serving our communities.

Sincerely,

Barry L. Stanton
Deputy Chief Administrative Officer
Public Safety and Homeland Security

Message from the Chief of Police

I am proud to present the 2021 Prince George's County Police Department's Annual Report in honor of the men and women who serve with integrity and professionalism. This report provides an overview of our 2021 crime initiatives and community programs, and it highlights the successes and challenges of our Divisions and Units.

The Annual Report is not just about numbers and statistics; it also lets the community know who we are as a Department and the direction we are headed.

The year 2021 was marked with many challenges in policing and the Prince George's County Police Department was not immune. A rise in violent crime coupled with the continued COVID-19 pandemic forced us to become more resourceful and innovative in our approach to policing. As we adapt to our new normal and learn to navigate, we continue to stay mindful of the health and well-being of our personnel and the community at large.

The one word that sums my tenure as Chief of Police is Transformation: Transformation through community outreach and Transformation through police reform. During my first eight months with the Department, we have strengthened our relationships with our residents and our community partners, and we implemented many changes recommended by the Police Reform Workgroup.

As we forge ahead, I am proud to acknowledge the dedicated men and women of the Prince George's County Police Department. The great work throughout our agency includes, but is certainly not limited to, the Homicide Division, the Gun Intelligence Unit, Psychological Services, Internal Affairs, Special Operations Division, Media Relations Division, Firearms Examinations, Forensics, and The Office of Community First.

The backbone of any great department exists upon the shoulders of the Bureau of Patrol. We all work for the greater benefit of officers assigned to patrol and its operational components. Crime enforcement and community policing are synonymous with each other. We will also continue to focus on the mental health, wellness, and safety of all personnel.

The Department's commitment to the community we serve continues to make us a top tier police department in our great nation. I remain optimistic and excited about the future of this great Department, and I look forward to the year ahead.

Sincerely,

Malik Aziz

Chief of Police

Police Reform

In July 2020, County Executive Angela Alsobrooks created the Police Reform Work Group to study and review policies within the Police Department covering the full spectrum of operations including hiring, training, and use of force.

The mission of the Police Reform Work Group was to provide the County Executive with substantive recommendations that would establish fair practices across the board, maximize transparency, and restore public trust in the Prince George's County Police Department. Their two main objectives were to:

1. Provide internal policy changes and recommendations for best practices to deliver critical services to County residents.
2. Develop long-term strategies that involve the police and community working collectively to ensure safe living and working environments.

To meet these outcomes, the Police Reform Work Group publicly conducted two community listening sessions and received over 35 presentations from public safety officials, academics, community advocates, government agencies, labor unions, a faith-based leaders. Members were assigned to each subcommittee based on their own unique backgrounds, experiences, and perspectives. Members were divided into five subcommittees to focus on the following policy areas:

- Community Engagement and Quality Services
- Employee Recruitment and Retention
- Financial Management
- Independent Oversight, Compliance, and Integrity
- Internal Policies and County Regulations

Each subcommittee met weekly and developed their own set of recommendations. On February 5, 2021, County Executive Alsobrooks accepted 46 of their 50 recommendations. We are proud to announce we immediately began implementing some of the recommendations. To track our progress, visit:

ABLE Project

In 2021, the Prince George's County Police Department partnered with Georgetown Law to train our officers through the Active Bystandership for Law Enforcement Project, allowing our agency to join over 140 police departments across the country in becoming an ABLE agency. Active Bystandership authorizes, trains, and empowers officers to intervene in another officer's actions, regardless of their rank. Every officer, from the Chief of Police down to the newest recruit was required to complete an 8-hour block of ABLE training. By teaching officers to strategically intervene, and receive intervention, when necessary, ABLE creates an institutional culture that supports and encourages peer intervention, accountability, and one that does not tolerate retaliation.

Body Worn Cameras

The Body Worn Camera Program is overseen by the Internal Affairs Division. This program was developed to enhance police services by accurately documenting events, actions, conditions, and statements made during citizen contacts, traffic stops, arrests, and other incidents.

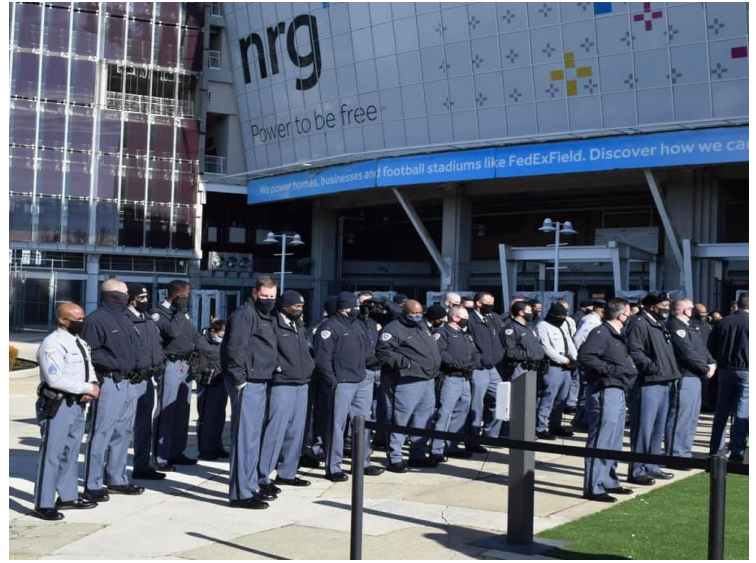

Officers issued body worn cameras are required to utilize them in accordance with all local, state, and federal laws, while on-duty and/or during any overtime, and secondary employment activities.

There are approximately 805 body worn cameras issued to all officers the rank of Lieutenant and below assigned to every Patrol Division, the Special Operations Division, and the Washington Area Vehicle Enforcement Unit.

Since its introduction, the body worn camera program has:

- Increased officer safety
- Reduced the number of complaints and false accusations
- Allowed supervisors to effectively evaluate officer performance

Office of Community First

Captain Michael Nolle
Commander

The Office of Community First was established in 2021 and is comprised of a Youth Engagement Section and the newly created Faith-Based Liaison. Their mission is to initiate and strengthen relationships and connections with all segments of the community through long-term engagement projects and large-scale events.

Some of their programs and projects include the Police Athletic League (PAL), the Cora Rice Christmas Party, the United States Marine Corps Toys for Tots Program, and the Faith and Blue Weekend.

Police Athletic League

The Prince George's County Police Athletic League (PAL) is a juvenile crime prevention program that uses mentoring, educational, athletic, and recreational activities to create trust and understanding between law enforcement and youth. This program assists our youth in developing character, integrity, and leadership skills, as well as respect for themselves and others under the supervision of law enforcement professionals.

PAL builds a bridge between police officers and our community's youth. Mentorship programs, community service projects, and numerous recreational camps (e.g.: tennis, baseball, martial arts, white-water rafting, and the Young Entrepreneurs Program) were hosted to promote a healthy environment for youth.

Cora Rice Christmas Party and Toys for Tots Program

Each year, the Office of Community First, along with numerous community partners, hosts the Annual Cora Rice Christmas Party for over 500 deserving children.

The Department also partners with the United States Marine Corps Toys for Tots program during the holiday season for the annual Toys for Tots toy drive, collecting and distributing thousands of toys to local children, and fulfilling the mission to help provide gifts underneath every tree.

Community Outreach

In response to economic hardships experienced by residents in the County, the Office of Community First partnered with “4 My City” and hosted a series of food drives. Approximately 40,000 - 50,000 pounds of donated fresh food were distributed to approximately 1,200 - 1,400 families.

Faith Based Initiatives

The newly formed Faith-Based Liaison is responsible for building and maintaining mutually beneficial relationships of respect and trust between the Department and our faith-based community. Some of the positive interactions that occurred in 2021 included the Annual “Faith and Blue Weekend” of community service, the Citizen Police Academy for Clergy, covering topics such as Crisis Intervention, Domestic Violence, Human Trafficking, and Police Use of Force; and a Gun Buy Back Initiative.

Internal Affairs Division

Major Corey Truxon
Commander

The Internal Affairs Division (IAD) oversees investigations concerning the integrity of Departmental employees. These investigations include, but are not limited to, allegations of corruption and serious misconduct.

IAD has authority and control over all complaints regarding the conduct of Departmental employees. The Division also oversees the coordination of the Early Identification System.

Citizen Complaints

Use of force, abusive language, harassment, and criminal misconduct complaints must be investigated by the Internal Affairs Division. Complaints not investigated by the Internal Affairs Division are handled at the lowest appropriate level of supervision. The Commander of the Internal Affairs Division screens all complaints received to determine investigative responsibility. Allegations of a less serious nature will usually be referred to the employee's Commander/Manager as a field investigation along with the original complaint form.

All complaints will be thoroughly investigated. At the conclusion of the investigation, and once the investigative finding has been determined, a closure letter will be sent to the complainant within 72 hours, informing them of the findings. If the complainant is not satisfied with the process or the outcome of the investigation, they may contact the Commander of the Internal Affairs Division.

These crimes include, but are not limited to, citizen robberies, assaults, batteries, burglaries/break-ins, destruction of property, telephone harassment, stalking, and missing persons cases.

Community Policing

Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) is a U.S. Department of Justice program designed to facilitate building trust and mutual respect between police and the communities they serve.

Through COPS initiatives, officers are integrated into the community's day-to-day activities by attending community meetings and participating in other neighborhood initiatives. By working together with community members and other stakeholders, they strive to resolve issues that affect the quality of life in the community.

Each Patrol Division has its own dedicated COPS unit that seeks to resolve issues that impede safety, address community concerns, and implement solutions using various County resources.

Homeland Security Division

Major Brian Addis

The Homeland Security Division investigates individuals and groups that threaten the security of Prince George's County and its infrastructures. The Homeland Security Division encompasses the Homeland Security Intelligence Unit, the Joint Agency Group and Special Entertainment Permits Unit, the Arson Task Force, the Maryland Coordination and Analysis Center, and INTERPOL.

Homeland Security Intelligence Unit

Members of this Unit collect, analyze, and investigate tips and information regarding terrorist activity and threats of mass destruction. One officer from HSIU is detailed to the FBI's Baltimore Field Office (BFO), and another to the Washington, D.C. Field Office (WFO), as members of the FBI's Joint Terrorism Task Force (JTTF) and are responsible for assisting with investigations that have a nexus to terrorism.

Joint Agency Group and Special Entertainment Permits Unit

The Special Entertainment Permit Coordinator is assigned as the liaison between the Department, businesses, and the Special Entertainment and Dance Hall permit issuing authority.

Arson Task Force

County officers detailed to the Prince George's County Fire Department Arson Task Force are responsible for the enforcement of the fire and explosive laws of the State of Maryland and Prince George's County. They also investigate the unknown causes and origins of all fire and/or explosive incidents within the County.

Maryland Coordination and Analysis Center

Officers assigned to the MCAC work in partnership with local and federal agencies, including Fusion Centers from all over the United States, to provide and share information that may affect our County. These officers are tasked with overseeing the operations of the Watch and Request for Service Section (RFS), which includes monitoring all available intelligence resources for significant, noteworthy, or high-profile events or activities to determine their impact on the State of Maryland and Prince George's County.

INTERPOL

INTERPOL is the world's largest law enforcement organization, having 194 member countries. Officers are assigned to the INTERPOL Washington D.C. office to assist in criminal investigations and humanitarian matters with an international focus. This assistance generally involves the location and arrest of known criminals and fugitives, locating missing or abducted children, and the preparation and issuance of INTERPOL Notices.

Information Technology Division

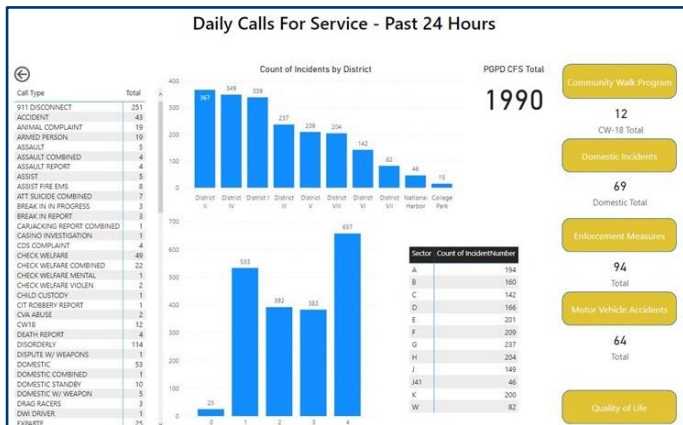

Alan Lee
Manager

The Information Technology Division's (ITD) mission is to act as the Department's liaison to the County's Office of Information Technology (OIT). OIT is responsible for the oversight of the development, assessment, and implementation of all technology related programs, services, devices, and products for the County.

As the Department's IT liaison, ITD coordinates and supports all phases of planning, assessing, selecting, implementing, and integrating all technology that is utilized by the Department.

Advancements in Data Analytics

In 2021, ITD undertook the task of utilizing technology to improve the data analysis experience by developing a multitude of interactive dashboards to efficiently display data directly from applicable databases.

These dashboards will allow users to view crime and other data tailored to their specific interests, through a user-friendly application.

Once fully implemented, data will be instantly available and accessible 24 hours a day.

Language Interpreter Program Tracking

In the fall of 2020, the Prince George's County Council passed CB-34-2020, which required all County agencies to track and report all interactions involving citizens with limited or non-English proficiency.

In order to accomplish the reporting requirements contained in this Council Bill, ITD staff designed and implemented an internal web-based tracking program.

The program went live in December of 2021, and 95 applicable contacts were recorded for the fourth quarter of the year.

A New Approach

The Department is leading the charge by changing the way we approach “traditional” policing. In 2021, our Special Operations Division introduced both their first Civilian Pilot-in-Command and Head Canine Trainer. Each of them brings over 20 years of experience in their respective fields. We are excited to have them, and we know they will continue to make us Prince George’s Proud.

As a proud Prince Georgian, Merriel “Bo” Corser has been serving the citizens and residents of Prince George’s County since 1994. After dedicating 25 years to law enforcement as a police officer, he was not done. In early 2021, Bo became the first civilian Pilot-in-Command of the Aviation Section.

During his time on the Department, Bo earned his private and commercial rotorcraft helicopter license. In 2002, he was assigned to the Aviation Section, where he flew for 16 years as a highly respected and well-trained Pilot-in-Command. In 2010, the Chief Pilot selected Bo as the maintenance test pilot, where he assisted in the safe return to service of aircrafts following required maintenance.

The citizens of Prince George’s County can feel a lot safer with Bo, literally watching over them. The next time you see Guardian flying overhead, wave to Bo and fellow flight crew members!

Joining us from the Metropolitan Police Department of the District of Columbia, Terrance Liddell is no stranger to Prince George’s County. Hired as the first Civilian Head Canine Trainer, Terrance comes to us with over 28 years of law enforcement experience and 20 years as a top canine handler and trainer. Terrance excels as a trainer and is certified in various Canine Disciplines to include Patrol, Narcotics, Explosives, Gun Detection and Cadaver.

Terrance and his canine partners have competed against other top canine handlers in the United States at the annual Police Canine Association Canine Trials, on both the Regional and National levels. In 2015, he took 1st place in obedience at the National Patrol Certification competition and was Nationally ranked 18th out of 153 competitors. In Regional level competitions, Terrance received 1st place on four separate occasions.

Terrance’s wealth of knowledge in the canine industry makes him the perfect person to lead our canine handlers and their four-legged partners. Please join us in welcoming Terrance!

Career Development Section

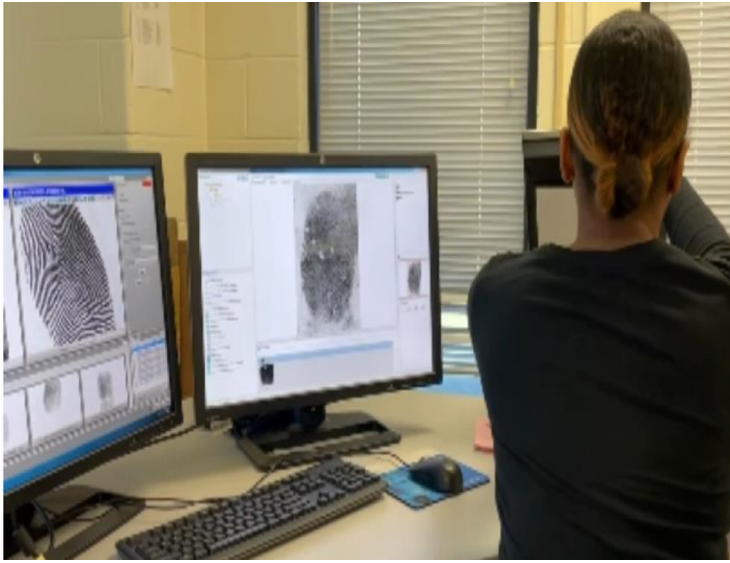

The Career Development Section is responsible for hosting bi-annual Citizen's Police Academies, where the department invites as many as 50 citizens per session to learn about and get an inside look at the Department that serves their community. The Section also hosts citizen's police academies specifically for community youth, faith-based groups, and those who do not speak English as their primary language.

The Career Development Section also coordinates commander and civilian in-service, supervisor and administrator schools, training bulletins, crisis intervention training, and the language interpreter program.

Citizens and Youth Police Academies

The Citizens and Youth Police Academies are designed to increase an understanding of police operations and assist citizens in developing realistic expectations of the Department. Anyone who lives, works, or attends school in Prince George's County is eligible to attend the Citizens and Youth Police Academies. These programs bridge the gap between the Department and the community by building trust, loyalty, and a sense of cooperation.

Crime in Prince George's County

An overview of crime reporting by the Prince George's County Police Department

Crime Reporting

The Prince George's County Police Department handled 500,658 calls for service in 2021. Calls for service can be generated by citizens calling 911 or the non-emergency line, or by officers proactively policing in the community. The calls involve a wide range of police services, to include motor vehicle accident reporting, premise security checks, welfare checks, traffic control, traffic stops, community engagement, and the reporting of criminal incidents.

The Prince George's County Police Department, like many other jurisdictions, reports crime two different ways. Internally, the Department calculates crime statistics as defined under the Maryland Criminal Code. This is how officers make arrests and how investigative responsibility is determined. Additionally, the Prince George's County Police Department reports crime data using the guidelines established by the Federal Bureau of Investigation under the Uniform Crime Reporting Program (UCR).

The PGPD relies on the internal reporting method for day-to-day operations and the determination of unit deployments. The chart on the following page displays the PGPD crime definitions and the UCR offense definitions in a side-by-side view, to provide a clear picture of the similarities and differences between the two. The crime data provided in this section is based on UCR offense classifications and reporting. A full breakdown of all UCR Return A offenses reported in 2021 can be found in Appendix B.
