

Redevelopment Authority

of Prince George's County

Dr. Madye Henson-McCannon serves as Managing Principal of Centric IMPACT (CI), an innovative, mission-centered consulting and support services firm. Centric IMPACT specializes in leadership and organizational development. She has over 25 years of C-Suite level experience including Vice President, Deputy Superintendent, and Chief Executive Officer (CEO) in the corporate, nonprofit, education, and faith-based sectors.

Dr. Henson-McCannon has a distinguished reputation as a visionary strategic thinker and leader. She has earned Doctor of Management (D.MGT) and Master of Business Administration (MBA) degrees from Webster University, as well as a Bachelor of Science (BS) in Business Administration from the University of Missouri-Columbia, and is an ordained minister.

With a lifelong dedication to community service, Dr. Henson-McCannon served as a special advisor to First Lady Michelle Obama and her team on volunteerism and community engagement. She serves on the Redevelopment Authority Board of Prince George's County, and the Board of Directors of Building Bridges Across the River in Southeast DC. She is a member of Women of Color in Community Development, Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, and NBC4 Community Action Board, to name a few. Dr. Henson wrote the Foreword to Cultural Competence in America's Schools: Leadership, Engagement, and Understanding by Drs. Bruce A. Jones and Edwin C. Nichols, was featured in Extra Mile America: Stories of Inspiration, Possibility, and Purpose, by Shawn Anderson, was featured in the 5th edition of Understanding Business, Irwin/McGraw-Hill Publication. She is a sought-after speaker and has received many honors including having been named a ChangeMaker by the Center for Nonprofit Advancement, received the Oak Park Legacy Award in Ferguson, MO, the DC Cornerstone Award, and was named the coveted 2024 NexStar Remarkable Woman for the DMV Region.