A Message from the County Executive

Angela D. Alsobrooks

County Executive

Proud Priority: Youth Development

Dear Prince Georgians:

We are pleased to share the 2023 Summer Youth Enrichment Program (SYEP) Annual Report for Prince George's County. This report celebrates the experiences and successes of the youth employed this summer, and highlights the program's impact on our youth and community.

In collaboration with our dedicated workforce and host-site partners, we created pathways for prosperity and success for young Prince George's County residents ages 14 through 22 by providing workforce development, job readiness training, real work experiences, and sustainable careers.

We continued to offer virtual, in-person and hybrid experiences. Some program highlights include:

- Recruitment and hiring events that provided opportunities for the youth to obtain hands-on assistance with completing the SYEP applications and meeting employers who were hiring for summer positions.
- Provided 2,915 youth with employment opportunities and enriching educational experiences via county-funded and business-funded partnerships.
- Offered Signature Programs that provided opportunities for the young people to experience job readiness training, aviation career exploration, energy conservation as well as start the process for certification in HVAC, automotive, medical office, and information technology help desk.

We wish to thank our partners who invested in our young people and continue to make this program a success. Together, we are Prince George's Proud of our community.

Sincerely,

Angela D. Alsobrooks

2023 Program Overview & Highlights

The Prince George's County Summer Youth Enrichment Program (SYEP) is an award-winning, nationally recognized program. This six-week program offers Prince George's County's youth and young adults ages 14 through 22 a wide variety of opportunities to explore potential career options by providing them with work experiences with government agencies, local businesses, and community organizations. The SYEP is part of County Executive Angela Alsobrooks' commitment to youth development, which prepares and empowers the County's youth to achieve their full potential into adulthood.

The 2023 SYEP provided eligible youth with the following:

- Targeted opportunities - Opportunities and applications were tailored based on age groups: 14 & 15, 16 & 17, and 18 through 22 to allow for programs and job opportunities specific to their age group and preferences.
- Job Readiness Training (JRT) - Opportunities were made available in each age group that allowed the participants to develop basic work skills to prepare them to be more successful in the workforce.
- Job assignment variety - Exposure to a diverse range of careers via our SYEP Signature Programs and partnerships with County agencies, community organizations, and strategic businesses across Prince George's County.
- Rewarding outcomes - The ability to earn money and gain meaningful experiences.

2023 Program Overview & Highlights cont.

The 2023 SYEP utilized the following strategies to execute a program that continued to be appealing to the youth and young adults:

- Simple application – The application was simple enough for the youth applicants to complete independently.
- Recruitment events – During the application period, provided two opportunities, to aid with the completion of the application for anyone who was experiencing any difficulty. These events included a mini-job fair that offered additional opportunities for summer employment.
- Interest-based assignments – The youth and young adults were able to indicate their job interests on the application. Job assignments were made based on their interests.
- Delivery options – Experiences were provided with virtual, in-person, and hybrid delivery options.
- Increased hourly pay rate – The pay rates in this year's program were increased to align with Maryland's minimum wage.

Prince George's County Executive, Angela D. Alsobrooks, welcomes the 2023 SYEP interns.

Signature Programs

The Summer Youth Enrichment Program (SYEP) Signature Programs were developed during the COVID-19 pandemic. At that time, most of the experiences were virtual in order to provide a safe working environment. These programs have now evolved into in-person, virtual, and hybrid experiences that give the participants opportunities to learn valuable skills as they work.

Administrative Support Career Jumpstart Training (hybrid)

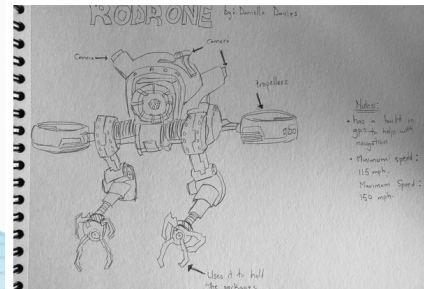

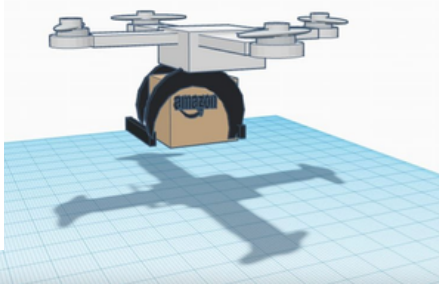

Participants ages 18 through 22 received career training and independent assignments, to include life skills, professional skills, Microsoft Office applications and nationally recognized customer service certification training and testing. Job placement assistance for full-time employment was available for successful completers, including careers in Prince George's County Government. This program was hosted by The Training Source, Inc.

Automotive Technology Industry Training (in-person)

Participants ages 18 through 22 were provided the basic knowledge and skills to start a rewarding career as an entry-level service technician in the high-demand Automotive Service and Repair Industry. Courses focused on the American Service Excellence (ASE) certification content areas for both beginner and advanced students. Students who successfully completed the program earned a Prince George's County Community College Certificate and were eligible for the ASE certification exam. This program was hosted by Prince George's Community College.

Aviation Program: Career Exploration (virtual)

Participants ages 16 and 17 engaged in educational awareness training and explored careers in aviation from professionals working in the Federal Aviation Administration, such as air traffic controllers, pilots, drone operators, and flight instructors. This program was hosted by DC Flight Club.

Samples of work and activities in the Aviation Program: Career Exploration.

Bring Your “A” Game to Work (hybrid)

Participants ages 14 through 17 learned the seven foundational values that managers demand: attitude, attendance, appearance, ambition, accountability, acceptance, and appreciation during this job readiness training experience. The seven foundational behaviors connect workplace skills, performance-based skills, and practical skills that businesses require. Activities and materials provided real-time opportunities for practice, observations, and evaluation of industry skills and workplace behaviors and values. Participants who successfully completed the program earned a Center for Work Ethic Certificate and digital badge. The digital badge allows employers to validate skills, credentials, and achievements. This program was hosted by Prince George's Community College.

Energy Conservation (virtual)

Through a series of hands-on explorations, research, and analysis, participants ages 14 and 15 gained a deeper understanding of science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) related to energy at home, at school and in the community. Participants worked on projects and collaborated using STEM thinking and problem-solving skills. Participants applied their knowledge and work experience to a potential career path in energy, energy efficiency, conservation, engineering, and sustainability. This was hosted by the National Energy Education Development (NEED) Project.

Heating, Ventilation and Air Conditioning (HVAC) Technician Industry Training (in-person)

Participants ages 18 through 22 were prepared for entry into and advancement in the growing industry of HVAC. The course covered Level 1 of the 4-level program. Participants earned a Prince George's Community College Certificate after successfully completing the course. This program was hosted by Prince George's Community College.

Information Technology (IT) Help Desk Technician - Industry Training (in-person)

Participants ages 18 through 22 learned the fundamentals of help desk organization, basic help desk assessments and functions, productivity measurements, problem resolution, and software technologies to track and monitor the help desk infrastructure and more. Participants who successfully completed the program earned a Prince George's Community College Certificate and were eligible to take the CompTia National Certification Exam. This program was hosted by Prince George's Community College.

Latin American Youth Center Workplace Readiness (hybrid)

Participants ages 18 through 22 were equipped with job readiness training, life skills workshops, and administrative work with various departments within the organization such as community wellness, housing, and workforce teams. This program was hosted by the Latin American Youth Center (LAYC).

Latin American Youth Center Next Generation Scholars Cohort (hybrid)

Participants ages 16 and 17 were equipped with job readiness training and workplace success skills, science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) career exploration, financial literacy, and enrichments in the topics regarding social and emotional health, advocacy, nutrition and wellness, and culture. This program was hosted by the Latin American Youth Center (LAYC).

Medical Office Assistant Industry Training (virtual)

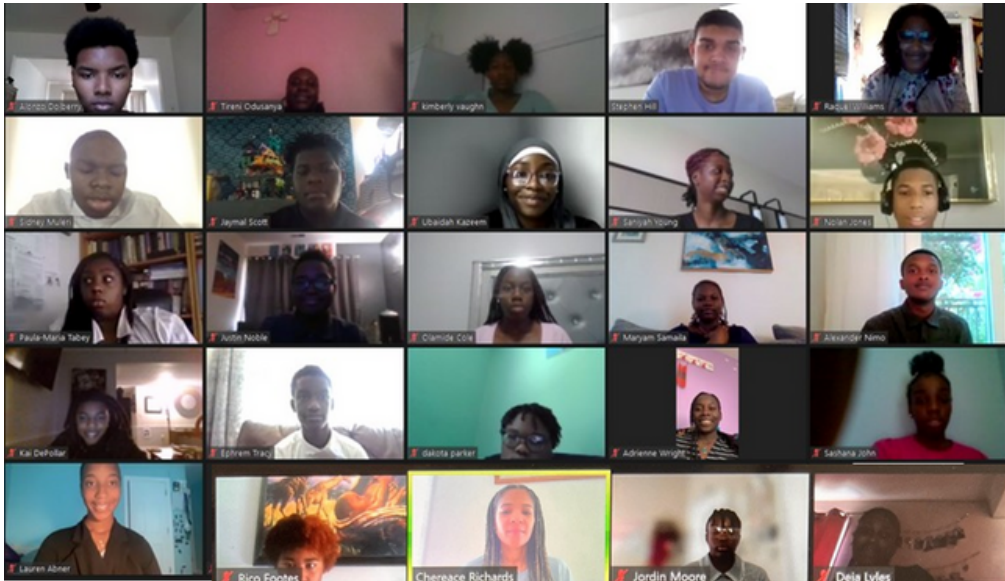

Participants ages 18 through 22 learned general administrative tasks including office practices, patient relations, maintaining medical records, and billing. Participants also learned clinical duties such as taking and recording vital signs and medical histories, preparing patients for examinations, drawing blood, and administering medications as directed by the physician. Participants who successfully completed the Medical Office Assistant program earned a Prince George's Community College certificate and were eligible to take the National Healthcareer Association (NHA) Medical Administrative Assistant (CMAA) certification exam. This program was hosted by Prince George's Community College.

My Career Blueprint (virtual)

Participants ages 14 through 17 acquired strategies and insights to catapult their life to the next level professionally and personally. Forward Movement Enterprises designed this learning experience for youth to value continual opportunities to gain knowledge, meet performance goals, and achieve notable success within any organization. This program was hosted by Forward Movement Enterprises.

My Career Blueprint Job Readiness Training meeting virtually.

Summer of Success (virtual)

Participants ages 16 and 17 received a combination of job readiness training, career exploration, and guest speakers from in-demand fields, performed independent and group projects, and participated in real-life work activities that gave participants opportunities to dive deeply into planning for their careers. This program was hosted by The Training Source, Inc.

2023 Kick-off Celebration

Career Explosion!

The Prince George's County's Summer Youth Enrichment Program (SYEP) launched the 2023 program with a "Career Explosion!" kick-off celebration. Explosion, in this instance, is defined as a sudden outburst and an expansion of energy. The 2023 SYEP provided young people with opportunities to explore and explode their future careers possibilities. The kick-off celebration utilized the excitement of the program and the success of some of the SYEP Alumni to get the 2023 participants excited about what was coming with the program.

This year's kick-off celebration was very innovative and exciting. Prince George's County native, comedian, radio/tv talk show host and co-host of Fox 5's DMV Zone, Joe Clair, hosted the celebration. Joe Clair shared his conversations about SYEP with the County Executive, Angela Alsobrooks and the Office of Human Resources Management Director Shawn Y. Stokes. He also interviewed the following SYEP Alumni that are now employees of Prince George's County:

- Jasmine Pearce, Office of the County Executive
- Travon Davis, Department of Public Works & Transportation
- Courtney Anderson, Office of Community Relations
- Carmen Perez, Office of Human Resources Management

After the kick-off portion of the program, the SYEP Orientation was shared with the participants. The orientation information included:

- Prince George's interesting facts
- SYEP Participant Information
- Compensation/Pay
- Work expectations

2023 Closing Event

Drive-through Celebration

The SYEP Team continued the tradition of a drive-through closing celebration to show appreciation and to celebrate the success and accomplishments of the 2023 SYEP participants. It was held on the last day of the summer program. The SYEP Team and some of the partners joined in this special celebration by handing out a special thank you card from the County Executive and a SYEP swag bag filled with goodies. Our very own Office of Human Resources Management, Director Shawn Y. Stokes, participated in this event to thank the SYEP participants for their contribution to the program and to offer words of encouragement for the upcoming school year.

The Office of Community Relations ensured that the air was filled with music by providing us with the energetic party sound of DJ Fatt Cat from WPGC. The Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission handed out t-shirts. Special thanks to the Prince George's County Police Department for assisting with the traffic flow.

In addition to this special celebration for the SYEP participants, partner organizations also held ceremonial events to close out their programs. Some partners spotlighted the youth's contributions in their newsletters and on their website/social media.

The Office of Human Resources Management SYEP interns set up for the closing event.

Worksite Highlights

Our SYEP partners and youth completed great work this summer. Here are a few stories that highlight the successes of the SYEP youth and young adults.

Accokeek Foundation

"The SYEP Crew has really assisted with staffing needs this summer. They have built many of the fences needed to contain livestock while learning about rotational grazing, assisted in removing weeds from our Ethnobotanic garden paths, as well as ensuring that our livestock receive breakfast each morning. They have been able to learn about African American and Piscataway people that existed in this space. They have learned how to use resources that can help them identify and measure trees, and have had an opportunity to shadow many of our staff to understand what each of us does to meet the goals of The Accokeek Foundation. The best part about this summer has been watching the interns become more comfortable in the outdoors and grow as young adults."

DC Flight Club

DC Flight Club's 4-week virtual aviation exploration program, in partnership with Prince George's County SYEP, was a huge success! We had the pleasure of hosting 90 talented and enthusiastic youth this summer, providing them with valuable insights into exciting careers in aviation. They learned about a wide range of career paths, including pilots, air traffic controllers, aviation engineers, flight attendants, astronauts, aerospace engineers, airport managers, and more! Our ambitious young aviators also had the opportunity to showcase their incredible talent and creativity through hands-on projects. They successfully built and designed delivery drones and airports, bringing forth their innovative ideas and problem-solving skills. We are immensely proud of their achievements and grateful for the support of the SYEP participants and their parents. It's amazing to witness the impact our program has had on their career aspirations and the wider community."

Chiquita Jackson Enterprise

"Our interns are taking the world by storm! They embarked in an extraordinary mission called Empower Pay: Rising Voices. They really dug into the hearts and minds of our community residents. They conducted powerful interviews that shed light on the impact of the minimum wage in Prince George's County."

DC Flight Club - Alumni Success

"We couldn't be prouder to share the incredible news: our organization has achieved a remarkable milestone with a 100% high school graduation rate! Seeing our students flourish and unleash their full potential is the ultimate reward. DC Flight Club is honored to be part of their educational journey and to witness them embark confidently on their chosen paths. Our commitment to nurturing bright minds and creating an environment where dreams thrive remains stronger than ever. Education is the key to success, and our aim is to equip future generations with the tools and opportunities they need to make a lasting impact in their chosen fields. Together, let's celebrate these incredible achievements and inspire a generation of unstoppable dreamers."

EBED Community Improvement

"Rakia Barnett assisted EBED'S Finance and HR Department during her summer internship. We were very impressed with her assertiveness, attention to detail and effective communication skills. She was definitely on-time and always eager with assisting our department. Rakia came onboard and nailed it!"

LAYC Next Generation Scholars Cohort

"Mikalah Gibson is an 11th grader at Northwestern High School. Mikalah was born and raised in Prince George's County. She sees herself working in social work. She decided to be part of the SYEP to gain job experience, but also learn useful tips and tools about how to get a job in the future. She was a stellar participant and stood out as one of the CEOs in our Bowie State University Digital Media Capstone. Her work ethic, commitment, and dedication to the program led her team to victory. It was truly a joy seeing Mikalah and her team thrive."

Maple Springs Baptist Church/Community Service Corporation

"Maple Springs Baptist Church/Community Service Corporation provided youth with exciting opportunities to experience an interesting speaker series, leadership opportunities, and enhanced job and life skills. They even developed a final proposal and presentation. The interns were challenged to think differently, respond positively, and absorb information that empowered them to make informed decisions regarding life experiences."

Maple Springs interns packaged and delivered more than 750 meals for seniors.

PEPCO

This year's interns were eager to learn, connect, and grow. Pepco's employees hope to inspire the interns to consider joining their team after graduation.

Prince George's County SYEP interns and DC SYEP interns worked together in this program.

Video Programs

The Prince George's County Public Schools (PGCPS) hosted 59 youth in the areas of administrative support, Information Technology, and landscaping & beautification. The youth collectively accomplished the following:

- Repaired 4,000+ Chromebooks
- Imaged software on Mac and Dell laptops
- Offered help desk support
- Provided administrative front office support
- Organized textbooks and classroom materials
- Supported district-wide hiring events
- Maintained clean and beautiful schools

Partners

The SYEP Partners are very important in providing meaningful experiences for our youth participants. The partners fully understand that the opportunities that they provide help develop the youth for their future role in the workforce.

In order to continue to foster the relationship with the partners, and to keep them informed of program updates, the SYEP Team continued to host monthly information sessions.

The topics in these monthly sessions included:

January - Program overview, key dates and requirements for hosting

February - Selection and placement process and host site expectations

March - Application statistics, last push for candidates

April - Partner Resource Guide review, Code of Conduct review

May - Kick-off summary, Time and Attendance overview

June - Time and Attendance Training of partners found the monthly info sessions

to be beneficial

We asked the partners what was the best part of this SYEP experience. Here is what they shared:

- “The interns were great.”
- “Being able to provide professional development opportunities to area youth that will aid in their professional growth for years to come.”
- “Introducing the interns to new experiences.”
- “We appreciated and value the contributions of our interns. They really make a difference during the summer and help us prepare for the upcoming school year.”
- “The SYEP Team is friendly, customer focused, and always supportive.”
- “The program improves each year.”
